Sonatify [Rails, ReactJS, Redux]

Sole Developer | Live • GitHub

Single-page web application inspired by Spotify, built on Ruby on Rails and React using Redux

- Integrated a React context-menu library to simplify user interaction with songs and playlists.
- Applied CSS over an HTML audio tag for a more aesthetic playback experience.
- Architected data flows using Redux for seamless navigation and playback across site.

DataBanks [Ruby, SQL]

Sole Developer | Live • GitHub

Lightweight ORM implemented in Ruby for use with SQL

- ☐ Implemented core functionality to perform database queries using method calls.
- ☐ Enabled users to provide names and options hash when setting associations.
- Employed search functionality by id and attributes for more robust querying.

Smoot [Javascript, HTML5 Canvas]

Front End Engineer | Live • GitHub

Browser game inspired by the 90's classic, Snood

- ☐ Utilized the ES6 language specification and Babel to transpile to ES5.
- ☐ Implemented coordinate trigonometry to translate mouse position to shooting angle.
- Designed with invisible placeholders for ease of snapping balls to the grid upon impact.
